DE NOUVELLES INFORMATIONS RÉVÈLENT
QUE LES COMPRESSIONS DE L'ICREF
NE S'INSCRIVAIENT PAS DANS LA RÉDUCTION
DU DÉFICIT

APR 30 1990

Après avoir tenté trois semaines durant d'obtenir des détails sur les compressions touchant le Programme de promotion de la femme du Secrétariat d'État, nous avons finalement obtenu des renseignements selon lesquels l'ICREF aurait été bel et bien induit en erreur quant au motif véritable de la compression de 20 % de son financement de base.

SAVIEZ-VOUS QUE :

- le budget du Programme de promotion de la femme a été réduit de 1,6 million de dollars (15 %);
- les compressions visant les centres pour femmes et les trois publications (DRF, Healthsharing et Études canadiennes sur les femmes) totalisent 1 594 502 $;
- les compressions de l'ACAFS (100 %), du CCA (15 %) et de l'ICREF, du CCPEF, du Vancouver Women's Research Centre et du Nouveau départ (20 % dans tous les cas) ont été réaffectées au financement de projets.

VOUS RENDEZ-VOUS COMPTE QUE :

- l'ICREF et d'autres groupes ciblés voient maintenant leur financement proportionnellement réduit même plus que celui du CCA, soit un total de 35 % sur deux ans et ce, sans avertissement ni consultation!
- dans sa lettre à l'ICREF, Gerry Weiner établissait un lien entre la compression de notre financement et la nécessité de réduire le déficit, argument d'ailleurs repris verbalement par ses représentants et les membres de son cabinet devant les représentants du Programme de promotion de la femme. On nous a dit que la recherche et la publication ne sont plus considérées comme une priorité, bien que les centres pour femmes soient désormais priés de demander des fonds pour financer des projets de "recherche et d'éducation";
- même le rétablissement du 1,6 million de dollars au titre du Programme de promotion de la femme ne voudrait pas nécessairement dire le rétablissement du financement de l'ICREF et des autres groupes nationaux.

NOUS VOUS EXHORTONS À PROTESTER contre la réaffectation du financement de base à la faveur de projets, car c'est le financement de base qui permet aux groupes d'engager des dépenses quotidiennes de fonctionnement, d'embaucher des gens, de signer des baux et de faire des plans à long terme en vue de la réalisation de nos buts et objectifs. Le financement des projets n'est accordé que pour des initiatives répondant aux objectifs du gouvernement et est davantage assujetti au contrôle de ce dernier; il exige en outre la présentation d'une demande de subvention pour chaque projet que tout groupe souhaite entreprendre. Exigez que le gouvernement rétablisse le financement des centres pour femmes, des trois publications et des organismes nationaux ciblés. Le gouvernement canadien a signé des documents internationaux en vertu desquels il s'engage à aider les femmes à atteindre l'égalité. Veillons à ce qu'il tienne ces promesses!

NEW INFORMATION INDICATES CUTS TO CRIAW WERE NOT PART OF DEFICIT-REDUCTION

After three weeks of requesting the details of the cuts at the Women's Program, Secretary of State, information has finally been released which indicates CRIAW was definitely misled as to the true reason for the 20% cut in core funding.

ARE YOU AWARE THAT:

- the cut in the Women's Program budget was 1.6 million (15%).
- that the cuts to the Women's Centres and the 3 publications (RFR, Healthsharing and Canadian Woman Studies) add up to $1,594,502.00
- that funds cut from CAAWS (100%), NAC (15%) and CRIAW, CCLOW, Vancouver Women's Research Centre and Nouveau Départ (all cut 20%) have been shifted into project funding

DO YOU REALIZE THAT:

- CRIAW and the other targeted groups have now been cut proportionately even more than NAC - a total of 35% over 2 years - and with no warning or consultation!
- the letter from Gerry Weiner to CRIAW linked our cut in funding to the need to reduce the federal deficit. This argument was also advanced orally by his officials and staff at the Women's Program. We were informed that research and publication were no longer a priority - although women's centres are now being asked to apply for project money for "research and education."
- even a restoration of the 1.6 million to the Women's Program would not necessarily mean a restoration of funding to CRIAW and the other national groups.

WE URGE YOU TO PROTEST the shift in funding from core to project: It is core funding which provides the day to day operating expenses for groups and enables them to hire staff, sign leases, and make long-term plans to carry out their goals and objectives. Project funding is given out for initiatives which meet government objectives. It is more subject to government control and requires the submission of a grant proposal for every project a group wants to undertake. Demand that the government restore funding to Women's Centres, to the 3 Publications, and to the targeted national organizations. The Canadian government has signed international documents committing it to helping women achieve equality. Let's hold them to this promise!
